

OTSTOTT LOCATES MAN SOUGHT; MUST WAIT FIVE MONTHS

State Patrolman Finds Alleged Auto Thief on Way to Michigan Prison.

State Officer Gordon Otstott, who has earned laurels for himself in running down and apprehending automobile thieves, found himself "stumped" Wednesday just as he was about to get his man.

An Oakland touring car was stolen from its owner, Ray Koehler, La-Porte, Sept. 10, last. The car was identified Wednesday when Saveland Motor Co., Mishawaka, sought the officer to look for the man who had left the car there for repairs, but who had disappeared without paying the bill.

The absconder was located. For the past month or six weeks he had been in jail at St. Joseph, Mich. Sheriff Bridgeman reported that Stanley Sosnowski, formerly of Mishawaka and more recently of South Bend, had come to trial Wednesday before Judge White, found guilty of shoplifting and had been sentenced to serve six months to five years in the Jackson state penitentiary.

"We want Sosnowski here for auto theft," Otstott informed the sheriff. "Can't help it. I'm taking him to Jackson today," was Bridgeman's answer.

The sheriff added that if Sosnowski behaved well he would obtain his release in five months, that Otstott could drop a note to the warden at Jackson and wait a while. Otstott signed his willingness to wait.

SAYS OUTDOOR GIRL UNHAPPY IN OFFICE

Minneapolis Girl Leaves Position to Enter Forestry Work.

DULUTH, Minn., June 29.—Three and one-half years in an office convinced Miss Eileen Carroll, 21-year-old Minneapolis girl that a person perfectly at home in the great outdoors had no business doing stenographic work for a living, so she applied for a position doing patrol work in the Superior National Forest. She impressed Supervisor Calvin A. Dahlgren and now she is a full-fledged patrolwoman, the first to be permanently stationed in the north woods.

Miss Carroll plans to continue in forestry work the year around. She said she wasn't afraid of bears, so the forest service promptly gave her the acid test and assigned her to a post deep into the forest. Here she was virtually lost for three weeks. Finally she received a letter asking for an interview. Apologizing for the delay in answering she explained that "a lookout's hours are rather long—I haven't had time to answer sooner."

FRENCH HINT THEY'LL PAY BY GERMAN COIN

PARIS, June 29.—(By I. N. S.)—Premier Poincare today conferred with M. Parmentier, French finance official who is going to furnish data to American debt funding commission, and furnished M. Parmentier with final instructions.

It is understood France will announce her willingness to pay her debt to the United States but will explain that she cannot say when she will have the money.

The date of the beginning of French payments will depend upon the pressure that the allies and the United States bring upon Germany to force Germany to meet all her indemnity obligations, according to the view held in official circles.

NO NEED OF GLAND OPERATION.—There is much talk of finding the fountain of youth in transplanting glands. Old weary sufferers of rheumatism will welcome this but it's only a panacea. One sure thing is that PRESCRIPTION No. 1903 is doing wonders for South Bend rheumatism. It's certainly worth trying. Call at or write to The Landes Drug Co., Michigan and Wayne, 175 ft.

LINER STRIKES REEF; RESCUE PASSENGERS

NEWPORT, R. I., June 29.—(By U. P.)—The Fall River liner Providence hit a reef off Newport today.

Several hundred passengers enroute on the steamer from New York to Fall River, were aroused from sleep as the ship crashed upon the rocks at Dumplings on the Jamestown shore, crushing in her bow.

All the passengers were safely removed and landed at Jamestown, with the assistance of the steamer General, also of the Fall River line. They were put on a special train and carried on to their destination.

The damage to the steamer is so slight that emergency repairs are being made and it is believed the ship will be floated off the reef at high tide.

THREE MINUTE JOURNEYS

WHERE A MAN MAY MARRY
ONLY A GIRL OF HIS OWN VILLAGE.

Among the Karen tribes of Burma, the British possession east of India, there are many extraordinary marriage customs and laws.

In these Karen villages the boys are required to leave their parents and go to live together in a bachelors' hall. They are only allowed to see the girls of the village at weddings and wakes. As a result, a death is as welcome in this strange country as a wedding.

And there are few weddings, because few Karens marry outside of their own village. The correct mate for a man to choose is his cousin. It does not matter if the husband is 20 and the bride 60—if they are cousins the Karens—contrary to all civilized custom—consider the match ideal.

Owing to this close intermarriage, sometimes there are hardly enough brides and grooms to go round, and there are very few marriages. In the old days, a native official went the rounds of the villages. If he discovered any unmarried man who had not found a cousin who suited him, he was ordered to marry a certain woman, much in the same manner as a man in Europe is ordered to join the army. Escape was impossible.

Today, if a Karen cannot find a wife among his relatives, he has only the village belles from which to choose. There is no other place for him even to think of looking. If he cannot find a native wife who takes his fancy, he is likely to remain in the bachelors' hall for the rest of his days.

If by chance a Karen swain should become so enamored of a girl of another village that he marries her, he is punished by law. He receives the same punishment which many other countries inflict for treason—exile! Yes, the Karen man who marries a stranger is forbidden ever to return to his native town.

LAND PROBLEM BIG ONE FOR JAPANESE

Tenants Returning Land to Owners Because of Percentage.

OSAKA, Japan, May 24.—(By Mail)—As in most countries with a large tenant farmer population Japan is faced with a land problem. In recent months, in several parts of the country but especially in Osaka and Kyushu prefectures the tenants have been returning the land to the owners because of the latter's refusal to grant them a larger percentage of the crops, the farms being worked on the share system. These tenants claim that under the present system, with long hours and arduous work, the earnings of a family average $11 (eleven dollars) monthly.

The land owners on the other hand claim that besides raising much of their own food on the land the tenants have the income from by-products which increases their earnings considerably but against this the farmers offset the increased cost of fertilizers, large quantities of which have to be used all over Japan and irrigation.

Some of the owners are proposing to farm their own land and are making trials with tractors for ploughing but the tenants assert that the labor for sowing or planting which in case of rice must be done by hand, will not be forthcoming. According to the latest statistics, the number of the tenant-farmers in this country is 5,482,000. Their tenant-land is 3,105,000 cho (one cho being about 205 acres) in area and the crops are about 50,818,000 koku (one koku being about 4 bushels).

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl

This is the time of year when most men get all fagged out dodging hard work.

Somewhat, it always makes a woman suspicious when her husband warns her against all the artificial little tricks which OTHER men employ in deceiving a woman.

While a man is trying to decide which of half a dozen fascinating women he will choose for life, some plain, simple, unassuming little thing sneaks up from behind and casually snatches him.

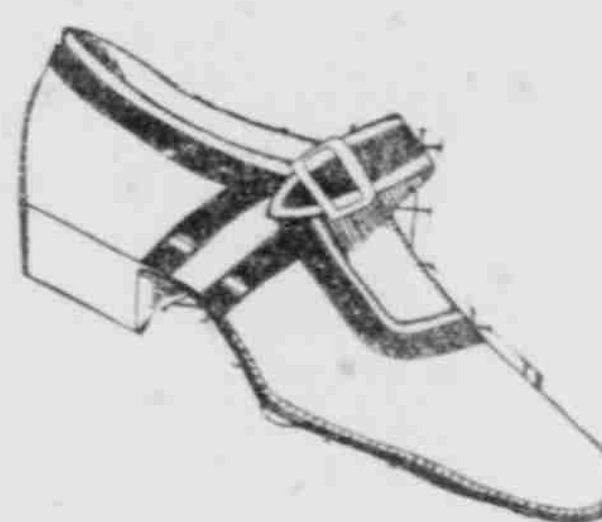

Clothes do not make the man—yet, Solomon in all his glory might not have been a beauty in a bathing suit.

When you tell a woman that her photograph does her justice, she always acts a little hurt, but when you tell a man that his does him justice, he is perfectly satisfied. That's all he could ask of ANY photograph!

Love is neither the Soul's Paradise nor the Fool's Paradise—but a divine hallucination which glides the hard facts of life with refined gold, and tints its drab commonplaces to match your illusions.

To a bachelor, the sweetest thing next to love's young dream, is to wake up and find himself still single—and free to dream again!
